Socrates, the greatest Philosopher tried hard to control himself and resolved never to make a show of his temper. He believed a that an angry Man was more of a beast than a human being. He had a wife who used to lose her temper on the slightest excuse and tried her utmost to irritate the cool and calm Philosopher. One day the woman became more furious than ever and began to insult Socrates. Socrates left her alone in the room and sat on the door-step of the house, looking out on the public street. The wife, finding that Socrates was not paying the least heed to her, went upto him and emptied a potfull of water over him. The passers by in the street were much amused at the incident. Socrates joined with them in their laughter and quietly remarked. "I was expecting this - after thunder comes rain."

Questions :

- (1) What did Socrates think of an angry man ?
- (2) What type of wife had Socrates ?
- (3) What did the angry wife do at last ?
- (4) Suggest a suitable title for the passage.

(b) Read the following passage and answer the questions given below : 8

In 1926, the Government decided to increase the land revenue in Bardoli district. The farmers went to the officers. They requested them not to increase the revenue. But the officers did not listen to them. At last they came to Sardar Patel. Sardar Patel asked them if they were ready for a fight. They said that were prepared to fight to the last breath. Sardar Patel asked them to think over the matter again. He told them that would have to suffer many hardships. Their land would be taken away. Their cattle would be sold. They might even have to go to jail. The farmers said that they were prepared to face everything.

Then they went to Gandhiji. When Gandhiji learnt that Sardar Patel was going to lead, he at once said, "Go forward and victory to Gujarat". So the battle was joined. Preparations different places. Each camp was placed in charge of a worker. Sardar Patel went to every village and to the people. Again and again he warned them, "Fight only if you are prepared. If you fail, be sure you will not be able to fight again for a hundred years."

Questions :

- (1) What did the Government decide to increase in 1926 ?
- (2) What did Sardar Patel say when the farmers met him ?
- (3) Why did Gandhiji allow farmers to fight against the Government ?
- (4) What did Sardar Patel say to the people of every village ?
