- 3 Reshape the following Story : 14
Many years ago when I worked as a transfusion volunteer at a hospital, I got to know a little three years old girl who was suffering from a disease. The little girl needed blood from her five years old brother who had miraculously survived the same disease. The boy had developed the antibodies needed to combat the illness and was the only hope for his sister. The doctor explained the situation to the little brother and asked if the boy would be willing to give his blood to his sister. I saw him hesitate only for a moment before he took a deep breath and said, "Yes, I will do it if it saves my sister." As the transfusion progressed, he lay in bed next to his sister and smiled, seeing the colour returning to her cheeks. Then his face grew pale and his smile faded. He looked up at the nurse beside him and asked with a trembling voice, "When will I start to die?" The young boy had misunderstood the doctor and thought that he had to die to save his sick sister.
- 4 Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions below it. 14
'----- I had no mind to give any dakshina. Therefore, I offered a pie. The panda in charge got angry and threw away the pie. He swore at me and said, 'This insult will take you straight to hell. 'This did not perturb me. 'Maharaj,' said I, 'whatever fate has in store for me, it does not behoove one of your class to indulge in such language. You may take this pie if you like, or you will lose that too. "Go away,' he replied, 'I don't care for your pie.' Then followed a further volley of abuse. I took up the pie and went my way, flattering myself that the Brahman had lost a pie and I had saved one. However, the Maharaj was hardly the man to let the pie go. He called me back and said, 'All right, leave the pie here, I would rather not be as you are. If I refuse your pie, it will be bad for you. 'I silently gave him the pie and, with a sigh, went away. Since then I have twice been to Kashi Vishvanath, but that has been after I had already been afflicted with the title of Mahatma. ---"
